AROUND THE TOWN.

Mrs. J. Parry was a visitor in Olds this week.

Mrs. Marie Mueller left for an extended visit to the Coast this week.

Didsbury won out in a friendly game of baseball on Tuesday night.

Mrs. A. Campbell and family returned from Sylvan Lake on Tuesday.

Mr. Arnold Liewener and Mr. Goldwin Liewener returned from Edmonton last Friday where they have been attending summer school.

Mrs. W. A. Austin and daughter who have been visiting at the Coast for some months past returned home last week.

The Misses Nan and Nettie Johnson, accompanied by their aunt, Mrs. Ginnell, of Vancouver, were visitors in town on Monday.

Mrs. H. C. Mobbs and daughter Frances who have been spending their holidays in Banff, have returned home.

Mr. J. Pirie, a former resident of this town now of Selkirk, Sask., stopped in Didsbury Tuesday morning between trains on his way back from a two months' visit to the Coast. Mr. Pirie is getting along well in Saskatchewan. He was accompanied by his son Murray.

Miss C. A. Smith, returned missionary from China, who was captured and held by bandits will speak in the Nazarene church Didsbury, on Tuesday evening August 14th at 8 o'clock, in Mowers school Monday evening and at Zella school Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. All are invited.

The following is a list of the teachers engaged to teach in the Didsbury Public School for the fall term—Mr. Peterson, Principal, Mr. A. Liewener, grades 6 and 7, Miss E. Klineck, grades 4 and 5, Miss V. Sexsmith, grades 2 and 3, Miss O. Stock, grade 1.

According to the baseball games played between Olds and Innisfail Didsbury comes out on top of the northern section of the league. Olds are trying to protest their last game with Innisfail however, which may or may not make a difference. The next play-off will be with Camrose, winners of the southern section.

WHY?

A community puzzle. Why is it that the C. P. R. square or oblong at the station today is not "a thing of beauty and a joy for everyone"? There are a few hundred people in Didsbury who would be pleased to know why trees are not growing there.—Contributed.

GRADE XI RESULTS

The following students were successful in their Grade XI final examinations:

Florence Pratt, Orville Kleiger, Tom Reed, Clarence Shantz, Nellie Wilson, Thelma Secomb, Granville Paton. Oliver Hyde was conditioned in composition.

16 CENT GASOLINE

PIERRE, S. D., August 6.—Governor McMaster yesterday issued orders to the state supply depot at Mitchell to sell gasoline in South Dakota as "highway robbery."

Charging that the Standard Oil company was reaping nearly 100 per cent profit on its price of 25 cents a gallon, the governor urged each community to take action looking toward the purchase of gasoline in carload lots in order to bring down to 16 cents a gallon the price in all parts of South Dakota.

Greenfield Has Changed Mind About Wheat Pool

SASKATOON, Aug. 6.—Arriving in Saskatoon after having accompanied Aaron Sapiro through part of Alberta, Mr. Greenfield admitted he had changed his view that a western pool could not be formed so late in the season as this. He spoke of the enthusiasm aroused at the meetings addressed by the co-operative expert. He believed that the creation of a pool in time to market the 1923 crop was quite possible in his province of Alberta, at least, if the farmers remained enthusiastic and enjoyed vigorous assistance of the business men.

Financial support from the government of the province would be unnecessary Mr. Greenfield said.

Mr. Greenfield explained the co-operative plan as it was going to be worked out in Alberta. He said contracts to deliver were quite essential to the success of any pool. Five-year contract forms had been drawn up, and were in course of revision by Mr. Sapiro. They are to be circulated throughout rural Alberta, during a campaign week, when the premier expects delivery of 75 per cent of the wheat crop will be promised to the pool. As soon as 20 per cent has been signed up, the next step will be taken by way of establishing a selling agency.

Must Get Half

Mr. Greenfield said that no steps would be taken to put the pool into operation unless over 50 per cent of the wheat in Alberta was signed up under contract. Every indication, however, pointed to this figure being exceeded.

A provincial pool, Mr. Greenfield believed, would be quite effective by itself in securing better returns for the farming community. However, the larger volume of grain handled by the single selling agency the better. He is strongly in favor of a western inter-provincial pool selling through an organization at Winnipeg.

In Alberta, he said, the objective for the time being is a provincial pool, but that province is very willing to co-operate with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, should they take the same preliminary steps in establishing one selling agency for the three co-operative organizations.

Mr. Greenfield is confident of the success of the pool plans in this province. He pointed to the fact that 43 per cent of the elevator accommodation of Alberta had been promised in the service of the pool within one day after its formation was certain. The Alberta Pacific Elevator Company and the United Grain Growers Ltd. have both offered to turn over their entire string of elevators in Alberta to the farmers pool. That was an indication, Mr. Greenfield said of the confidence felt in the co-operative project.

Mr. Sapiro condemned co-operative movements lined up with politics. In emphatic terms he declared that economic ills could not be cured by political means but rather that an economic solution should be sought. He cited instances where co-operatives had failed because they were tied up with politics in one way or the other.

PRESIDENT HARDING DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, Aug. 2. Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, died instantaneously and without warning last night at 7:30 o'clock, a victim of a stroke of apoplexy, which struck him down in his weakened condition after an illness of exactly a week.

The chief executive of the nation, and by virtue of his office and personality one of the world's leading figures, succumbed at the time when his physicians, his family and his people thought that medical skill, hope and prayer had won the battle against disease.

The disease had been smoldering, the fire was out, but seven days of silent, though intense suffering had left their mark, and a stroke of apoplexy came without an instant warning, and before physicians could be called, members of his party hurried, or remedial measures taken, he passed from life. Stage after having for nearly two and a half years served his nation and for many years his native state of Ohio.

Attorney-General Daugherty shortly after 11 o'clock last night sent a telegram to Vice-President Coolidge at Plymouth, Nt., suggesting that he take the oath of office immediately as president of the United States, which was done.

Great Britain was the first foreign power to pay its respects to the dead president.

SCOTCH ALL GOING TO CANADA STATES, NONE TO CANADA

MONTREAL, August, 3.—A slight absolutely without precedent in the annals of Montreal was presented today in the arrival of two liners with a combined passenger list of 2,828. Of this number, 1,550, entirely Scotch in nationality, were destined for the United States.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER PREVAILS

Without trying to be pessimistic the crop situation in this district is beginning to look serious. Crops have grown abundantly and have reached a height and growth that has not been equalled for some years now. But just at the time when they should be ripening they are being held back by the cool wet weather, so we are having for about two weeks now there has been rain every day. Thus instead of ripening the crops have kept on growing and as one farmer said they are greener today than they were three weeks ago. If they are delayed too much the frost will catch them before harvesting. In many fields the grain is so heavy that any heavy rain or wind blows them down and considerable grain through the district is in this condition. Hail is also taking its toll in some parts.

The Senate Hold-Up

The destination by the Senate of the whole branch lines construction programme of the Canadian National Railways is one of the worst blows Canada has received for some time. It is a blow at immigration, at production, at even holding our present population, not to speak of the direct blow at transportation and the future success of the national system of railways. The action of the Senate is the reverse of patriotic, and it is the men who cast their votes against the C.N.R. programme were responsible to the people, and had to go to them for reelection. It is safe to say that the majority of them would have voted exactly the opposite way, and in accordance with the wishes of the electorate.

It is small wonder that the Governments of all four Western Provinces are vigorously protesting the action of the Senate that British Columbia, farmers' organizations, and business interests generally are alarmed over the prospect of the country's development being retarded and its future jeopardized by an irresponsible and arbitrary body.

The action of the Senate does not mean a saving of expense to Canada, but added expenditure and consequently increased taxation. Many of the proposed branch lines are already graded and the refusal by the Senate of authority for the laying of steel on those lines and their early operation cannot but result in duplication of the work already done.

Hundreds of settlers who have gone into districts and commenced clearing land and begun farming operations must stop, because it is worse than futile to raise crops if they cannot be marketed, or if the cost of hauling long distances on a railway are greater than the price that can be realized for them. Scores of these people anxiously waiting for railway facilities, and being thrown back to the land in expectation of their construction, are now losing all hope because what an irresponsible Senate will do in 1922 it may repeat in subsequent years. The movement of these settlers away from their holdings into cities and towns, or out of the country altogether, has already begun. And even those who cannot move away and must persevere stick it out, see their children denied schools and an education, and must look to raising out a bare existence and possibly being forced to accept relief from governmental or charitable organizations.

Immigration is bound to be checked, because people cannot be induced to come to Canada and settle on its vacant but at present remote lands when they cannot be given a guarantee by the responsible Government of Canada that their transportation needs will be met owing to a reactionary and irresponsible Senate.

And what of the effect on the Canadian National Railway system? That system is now being operated at an enormous cost to the people of Canada. Its weakness as a national system is that it has extremely long main lines to operate through sparsely settled parts of the Dominion. It must have many small feeders in the form of branch lines into productive districts in order to create and provide a sufficiently large volume of traffic to make these main lines pay. A responsible railway directorate decides that certain branch lines are needed and will add to the earning power of the whole system. A responsible Government and a representative House of Commons approves the railway directorate's programme. Then our reactionary and irresponsible Senate steps in and vetoes it, and puts an end to all C.N.R. branch line construction in a year when the country is faced with the largest crop in its history.

In the meantime, the Canadian Pacific Railway is free to go ahead with its ambitious programme of branch lines construction. And it is proceeding to do so with the vigor, vision and business-like administration which characterize that great Company. Every Canadian welcomes the activity being shown by the C.P.R. The lines it is building are all needed. But it is a fact that some of these extensions are into territories from which the Canadian National now draws the bulk of the traffic. However, competition is a good thing and is heartily welcomed. The C.N.R. cannot be given a monopoly in any portion of the country. Therefore there is not, and cannot be, anything but welcome and approval of C.P.R. activity in branch lines construction.

But what is to be the future of the Canadian National? While its bid for it is a most business-like manner extending its branch lines and developing new business for its main arteries, even to some extent at the expense of the C.N.R., the nationally owned system is to be kept tied hand and foot by the Senate? There can be but one outcome, and that is the failure of the national system, the piling up of still larger deficits until the point is reached where the people can bear the burden no longer, and in disgust and desperation, turn the system over to some private corporation.

Is that what the Senate is striving to accomplish? Surely are not lacking that the Senate would replace at such an outcome. The majority of Senators are opposed to public ownership and would like to see Canada's great experiment end in failure. The question is, are the people of Canada going to permit the Senate to have its way? If not, the people must bestir their voices and insist upon a complete and radical reform of the constitution and powers of that body.

Passing Habeas Corpus Act

Bill Became Law By Way of a Jest

It is one of the unidentified facts of our history no doubt very properly suppressed in our school and text books, that the Habeas Corpus Act, that palladium of our liberties recently invoked in the case of the Irish deportees, came upon the statute book by way of a jest, says the Manchester Guardian. Not even Macaulay mentioned it though he must have read it in a footnote of Bishop Burnet, but his brilliant grandnephew, G. M. Trevelyan, has for unerring an eye for the picturesque to let it slip.

At a critical moment the bill only just passed the House of Lords because the tellers, as a jest had counted a certain lord who voted for the bill as a vote, and in their mirth over this excellent witicism had failed to rectify their figures until it was too late. A fitting origin for the one good measure of the Merry Monarch's reign.

"The wags," says Trevelyan, "the best like ever made in England. The lord's vote secured that even James II. could not imprison his subjects at pleasure."

Muskat Pelt Taken in Alberta Last Year, Valued at $779,562

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa says:—

From records based on reports from licensed fur dealers and buyers, there was a total of 712,419 muskrat pelts taken in Alberta last year, valued at $779,562, equalling in value all other classes of pelts of wild animals combined. The muskrat pelt is used for the manufacture of what is known in the fur trade as Hudson seal, and the fact that this fur is at present exceedingly fashionable has led to the intensive trapping of the muskrat. The Chief Game Guardian of Alberta sees danger of the supply of this animal becoming depleted, and suggests that it may be necessary to limit the trapping of the species.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE
What Prohibition Does?
There is scarcely a community in the Province of Alberta that has not paid tribute to the bootlegging fraternity. The aggregate amount runs into millions annually. Many individuals engaged in bootlegging have made a profit exceeding $100,000 per year, and have not been convicted of violating the terms of the Alberta Liquor Act. Numbers of men and some women have left the Province of Alberta after two or three years operating as bootleggers, and have become very wealthy thereby, who have never, at any time, contributed one dollar to the revenues of the province.
The efforts of the Alberta Government (and the loss of revenues by Prohibition) have been mainly responsible for the provincial deficit of 1922, which reached approximately $2,000,000, and a further loss of $1,000,000 was shown in the Provincial Budget for 1923.
The bootlegging fraternity are most numerous in quarters of crime.
"A", by which means they have to continue in the business, which has proved so lucrative. Will you vote to assist this fraternity to continue their ill-gotten gains, and increase the expenses of law administration, without raising the standard of law, order, and good government?

FORGING A LEVER
(An editorial from the Calgary Daily Herald.)
The American press is greatly agitated over the recent pulpwood legislation of the Canadian government. Without a supply of pulpwood from Canada the paper manufacturing industry of the United States would perish. American mills would have to move to Canada. This country has passed legislation providing machinery whereby an embargo may, if it be thought desirable, be placed on Canadian pulpwood. The motive behind this legislation is to protect this great national resource from depletion. That is a commendable aim. The objective can, however, be reached by other means. By requiring Canadian as well as American users of pulpwood to apply scientific methods of reforestation, the same end can be gained. However, an embargo is not to be applied immediately. A committee will make an examination of the whole situation before action one way or the other is taken.

It has been said in the United States press that this Canadian legislation has been passed as a form of reprisal for the Fordney-McCumber tariff. We do not see it in that light. But it would be legitimate to employ it as a basis of trade with the United States. The Fordney measure provides that the president of the United States, with a view to securing reciprocal trade with any other country, may, where such course is deemed to be for the interests of the United States, negotiate an agreement for the reduction of the duties imposed by the Fordney tariff. That in rough is the elastic provision to the Fordney tariff. If a country has something the United States wants then the president has the right to trade for it.

That the present American tariff is Canada's hardest of all countries, is admitted. It has practically prevented the export of our cattle to the United States. It imposes a tax of 50 cents a bushel on our wheat. It levies a prohibitive tax on many of the farm products of Western Canada. In the case of our livestock the United States permanent tariff commission has declared that the tariff while killing in its effects upon the Canada-United States business, brings no measure of relief to the American consumer, nor would the free export of Canadian animals injure the American livestock producer; the contrary effect indeed would be the result. Then why not "swap" pulpwood for desired free entry of Canada's livestock and other farm products to the United States?

The pulpwood legislation provides a bargaining base. It places the Canadian government in a position to talk to the president of the United States, along lines suggested in the provision of the Fordney bill mentioned above. Americans need our pulpwood. We need their market for our cattle. The two should get together and do some bargaining. All the advantage has been with the United States in the past. The Americans have had the best of the trade. Canadian producers have been staggering under the blow inflicted by the American tariff. The time has come to employ some of our resources as a lever to pry open some of the channels of trade now closed to us by the Fordney-McCumber tariff.

"D" DOES NOT MEAN RETURN OF BAR, SAY MODERATIONISTS
Campaign Committee Makes Their Stand Clear on This Point

That question "D" of the liquor plebiscite that will be held on Nov. 5 gives the government the widest scope in framing an act, in the event of its acceptance and does not indicate or aim at a return of the bar, is the burden of a statement issued by the campaign committee of the Moderation League of Alberta. The different provincial branches of the league are represented on this committee.

The following is the statement that sets out the stand of the Moderation League on this question:

"The Social Service League has made a statement that we are advocating the return of the bar. This we are emphatically opposed to. As a great majority of our supporters today were those who voted to get rid of the bar in 1915, considering it a public nuisance and their sentiments have not since changed."

The government of Alberta is charged with the responsibility of interpreting the wish of the people as expressed by them on November 1, 1922, but we insist that they shall not interpret "D" to mean the return of the bar. Clause "D" gives the government the widest scope to bring in a sane reasonable and practical law that will promote temperance and better social, moral and economic conditions in the province.

We believe that the present Greenfield government has the interests of temperance at heart and that the legislation for the control and sale of liquor will be a good act, but that this government or any other government attempt to bring back the bar or saloon and its old abuses, the moderationists of this province will use all the power in their hands to prevent the consummation of any such act.

Human Sacrifices In India

Many Slaves Burned In Nagas Hills
Every Year

Slavery and human sacrifices are still going on in some of the mountain districts of Northern India, according to the annual report of the commission of the northeastern frontier, published by the Government at Rangoon. It is in the territory known as the Nagas Hills that the sacrifices take place.

Attempts by the Government to eradicate these practices have not entirely succeeded. The redemption of slaves intended for sacrifice has only resulted in the use of money saved for a bigger and more expensive sacrifice later on.

By a recent Government investigation, it was discovered that the number of human sacrifices in the Nagas Hills is never less than from six to ten a year. Sometimes when funds are plentiful, the number in a year amounts to 20 or 30. The most common victims are Indian children.

DUE TO POOR BLOODPerfect Digestion Will Come If the Blood Is Made Rich and Red

It is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating predigested food. Tone up your stomach, then, your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin, you need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the strength to your blood; in addition use care in the selection of your food, and your stomach trouble will soon pass away. Mrs. Charles La Rose, Fullerton, Ont., suffered severely, and tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her. She says: "It was a terrible suffering from stomach trouble. The doctor called it nervous indigestion. Everything I ate distressed me, and I became so weak and run-down I could hardly walk. I had a pain around my heart most of the time and I slept very poorly. I was afraid I would not get well, as the doctor's medicine was not helping me. In this serious condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended and I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say that they made me feel like a new person. I will always give this medicine a word of praise when I get a chance for I think there is nothing to be compared with it in dyspepsia, or any other weak, nervous or run-down."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Invention May Revolutionize
Sending and Receiving By Telegraph

A new selective apparatus has been designed and patented by Irving K. Hamilton, a young Winnipeg electrical engineer, who is employed at the present time as supervisor of the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraphs at Moose Jaw, Sask., which, it is stated, will revolutionize line telegraph sending and receiving apparatus and will make it possible to send written messages over the ordinary telephone connection.

The apparatus consists of a new design typewriter, electrically controlled, and operated on the permutation code principle. The sender will sit down at his machine and type off a letter or message as he would on an ordinary typewriter and the receiving apparatus will record it in printed form. The invention is already protected by five patents recorded at the Ottawa patent office and applications have been made for patents in all other countries of the world.

The inventor is the son of Mrs. Mary K. Hamilton, Bedford Apartments, College Avenue. He is a graduate of St. John's Technical School in Winnipeg and a member of the local radio club. He also organizes the radio club at Saskatoon. Recently Mr. Hamilton graduated in electrical engineering from an American college—Mantoloking Free Press.

A Flying Wing Aeroplane

Bodyless Machine Expected to Prove a Faster Than Previous Type

An aeroplane which will be nothing more or less than a flying wing is shortly to be tested. The body has been so shaped that it has itself become a lifting surface and instead of so much dead weight in flight it will carry more than a ton. This bodyless machine is expected to prove faster and more economical than any previous type. It will be multi-engined with a saloon for twenty-five passengers and additional space for mails and baggage.

History Of Tea

Industry Was Established in the Fourth Century, B.C.

The history of the tea-growing industry is said to have commenced in Korea before the Fourth Century before Christ, and to have reached Japan more than 1,000 years later. Tea was unknown to Europeans until the Sixteenth Century, when Matteo, a Portuguese, mentions it in his "Historia Indica" as a product of China and Japan. Not until 1815, however, was it imported by an Englishman, during that century small quantities found their way as presents to wealthy Londoners, or later into the markets. The first large importation from Japan came from Yokohama to San Francisco in 1859.

In conversation and greenhouses tea is often grown as an ornamental plant and as an object of interest. The plants are managed like their close relatives, the camellias, but are less popular because more difficult in their use, especially because their flowers are auxiliary, and hence less useful for cutting than those of the camellias.

That "prospects for increased immigration into Canada are excellent" was one of the most important statements made by E. W. Beatty, K.C., upon his return from an extended tour of England and European capitals. The president of the Canadian Pacific Railway believes Canada is progressing in the matter of immigration, but intensified efforts are essential, he considers, to offset erroneous impressions abroad that Canada does not require new settlers.

A record run between Winnipeg and Quebec was recently made by a special Canadian Pacific train when passengers from the Orient were, through delay caused by landslides, in danger of missing their connection with the C.P.S.S. "Empress of Scotland" at the eastern terminus.

The train covered the 1,579 miles in a little over 36 hours. It was the fastest time for a train between two cities in 53 hours. The passengers had crossed the Pacific on the C.P.S.S. "Empress of Russia" and were taking advantage of the 21 day connection agreement of the company.

The United States has invested in Canada $2,800,000,000, according to the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, which has just completed a survey of Canadian industry and the amount of United States capital invested. Of the total sum invested, $1,200,000,000 is in bonds, and the remainder in firms, mortgages, and other securities. The survey shows that more than 300 American factories were opened in Canada by United States companies in 1910, and that the number in 1920 and 1921, and that in 1922 the number of these came to 700.

FARM LABOUR SITUATION

CALGARY, Alta., July 31.—Members of the Alberta legislature farm or party are expressing grave fears of a labor shortage in Alberta. In a recent interview given out in Calgary, W. H. Shields, M. L. A., Macleod, said that there undoubtedly would be a shortage in his district in view of the prospect of a bumper crop. T. C. Milnes, M. L. A., of Chesholm, said he knew already many cases of men who quit meekly wages and refused to work on any but a day basis. A. B. Claypool, M. L. A., Didsbury, took a more hopeful view, saying farmers in his district had already arranged to combat this situation, besides, crops there ripened over a considerable period of time. Nelson Smith, M. L. A., of Olds, declared there would be a grave shortage of labor in his district, but that farmers were determined not to pay any unreasonable prices for labor. W. C. Smith, M. L. A., Redcliff, confirmed reports that a labor shortage threatened in his district, but had hopes that a sufficient number of men would be brought in to avert it.

EDITORS VISIT MARITIME PROVINCES

Important places visited by Weekly Newspaper Association on the way to convention at Halifax: (1) The historic fort at Annapolis Royal; (2) The twentieth century Chateau Frontenac, where the travellers were entertained at lunch; (3) The Evangeline memorial church at Grand Pré, N.S.; (4) Home of the editors and their wives at Halifax.

ONE of the important annual events of the year is the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association when the editors of the weekly papers gather from all parts of the country, hold their annual meeting, and travel together to the convention city. Two years ago they went to Vancouver a year ago to Ottawa, and this year to Halifax, where they spent two days after a trolley tour of the Maritime Provinces. Never was a convention tour more completely successful. The party, including editors and children, totalled about 100 people. The editors left Toronto in a special Canadian Pacific train of twelve cars, and in their journey ing through the East became acquainted with that important part of Canada and learned much of the viewpoint of Easterners. Therein lies the special value of these annual trips. The influence of the weekly newspaper press of this country is great and it is important that the men who produce them should have the widest possible viewpoint on Canada and Canadian affairs. To Western editors the journey through the Maritime Provinces was tremendously informative. They not only had a close up view of the country's tremendous resources, but heard leading citizens explain the eastern attitude in reference to national questions of the day.

A redaction, N. B. was the first maritime stopping place, and here the travellers were given a motor drive by the citizens and welcomed by the Lieutenant Governor and the Premier. At St. John the party embarked on the Canadian Pacific steamer "Princess" for Digby, N. S., having a most pleasant sail across the Bay of Fundy. From Digby to Halifax the Dominion Atlantic Railroad carried the party through the Annapolis Valley where the wonderful apple orchards were still in bloom. Two days were spent at Halifax in convention business and in sight seeing, and the party returned home via the Canadian National Railroad.

The Canadian Pacific special train was made up of standard sleepers, diners, baggage car and observation coach. The trip was arranged by E. Roy Sayles, Manager of the Association, and from Toronto to Halifax the party was accompanied by W. B. Howard, Assistant General Passenger Agent, and J. Harry Smith, Press Representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway. On the return journey a stop was made at Quebec and the party was entertained at the tower wing of the famous hotel. Next year it is expected the convention will be held at Quebec, and after it is over a number of the members can will go to England to visit the British Empire Exhibition and perhaps to France to see the battlefields.
